Rules of eligibility

To be eligible for a medal, trophy and/or prize, beers must fulfil the following criteria:

- Must be brewed in the Republic of South Africa
- Your brewery is fully licensed to manufacture and sell beers in the Republic of South Africa
- Your brewery is currently open and operating with at least one beer that is currently commercially available for sale at retail to the public (i.e. tap room, bar, restaurant, retail store)
- Must be brewed in minimum batches of 200 litres
- Must not be a once off experimental batch.
- A minimum 51% of the fermentable carbohydrates must be derived from malted grains.
- Beer must contain hops. Exceptions to this include Fruit or other historical beer styles that traditionally use other herbs or spices (such as heather or yarrow, for example).
- Beverages made with malt substitutes, honey, fruit or fruit juices or anything other than malted grains as the majority of fermentable sugars are not eligible to participate
- Each beer may be entered only one time.
- A beer may not be entered in multiple categories.
- A beer brand may not be renamed and entered in multiple categories.
- Contract beers: If you own the rights to a brand, but your beer is produced by another brewery, you are still eligible to enter the SANBT. Any award won by a contract brand is property of the brand owner, not the brewery producing the beer.
